Relief - In View of Communal Clashes and Curfew

Hyderabad city witnessed communal clashes in the last week of March 2010. This was subsequently followed by a ten day long curfew in Old City of Hyderabad, apart from a few areas in the new city. HMI's Director Dr. Varghese Manimala and the Community Development (CD) team members visited the project areas at Sultan Shahi, Shanker Nagar and Chandrayangutta and organized meetings with community people. As an outcome of the above meetings, CD team initiated and organized relief activities at its project areas. This was done with the kind contribution from CD team's projects and HMI staff. 166 Hindu and Muslim families were given relief packs with ten essential food commodities like rice, dal, oil, etc.

Subsequently several meetings were organized with the community members to help them overcome the tensions and fear which they experienced during the communally sensitive situation.

Interaction, the newsletter of the Henry Martyn Institute, is published twice yearly.

The Henry Martyn Institute (HMI) established in 1930, is a study and praxis oriented centre specialising in the study of Islam and working for reconciliation between people of all faiths. HMI's efforts are in response to the contemporary context of inter-religious misunderstanding and violence, and it promotes activities that remove prejudice, resolve conflict and increase trust and cooperation between individuals and groups.

Academic programmes at HMI include a nine-month Post-Graduate Diploma in Islam and Interfaith Relations, one year Post-Graduate Diploma in Conflict Transformation, Peace-Building and Interfaith Relations, and a Master of Theology Degree Programme in Islam offered through the Senate of Serampore and Luther Seminary in USA. Each May, the Institute also organises a two-week intensive Summer Course on Islam and Interfaith Relations. HMI also offers daily language classes in Arabic, Urdu, and Persian, a ten-week Intensive Summer Language Programme and a two-week Peace Building Programme.

HMI's commitment to the work of reconciliation translates into ongoing Praxis programmes for building bridges of understanding between Muslims, Hindus and others at grass-root levels. This includes practical work in three community development centres in slum neighbourhoods of Hyderabad, an HIV-AIDS awareness programme, and short and long-term training programmes in conflict transformation and peace building.

This is the age of revolution in communication, and electronic media have developed so much; but still the written and printed word holds an irreplaceable position. We are quite aware of this and we would like to be in touch with our partners and well-wishers through our newsletter Interaction. As most of you know this is a bi-annual publication and we are glad to put into your hands the first issue of this year. You will get a glimpse of activities of Henry Martyn Institute (HMI) for the past six months in the various fields that we are engaged in. Our theory is complemented by praxis and vice versa; we believe in the complementarity of both. A theory devoid of praxis is empty and a praxis not supported by theory will lose its relevance in a short while and is bound to meet with failure. We are happy that we could achieve much in the fields of academics, conflict transformation and community development. All became possible due to the hard work of our staff members and those who supported us in various ways through finance and personnel. We are greatly indebted to all of them. Due to human frailties and lack of sufficient hands we could not reach to the expected heights; and we are aware we have to learn to live with our limitations without in any way finding justification in them. We do hope you will enjoy perusing the following pages and any recommendation or suggestion from your side is welcome. Let us join together to bring about the peace and harmony for which our society yearns. We need to be aware of the culture of violence that seems to be taking root in the society and we have to be vanguards in denouncing such a tendency by promoting a counter-culture of justice, love and peace. Denouncing all discrimination and oppression we need to surge forward.

It is observed that cultural exchanges and friendship building for peace processes take place on these occasions.

Community Empowerment Processes

Dialogue and Peace building

Grass root workshops are organized for the community women to develop the capacities of the community members to deal with different issues related to conflict.

Five year planning

As an outcome of these workshops the students are able to make paintings about their present situations and look for alternatives for better future possibilities.

Economic Development

As a part of economic empowerment processes women through their savings received loans to start their petty business and also meet their household expenses. This is one of the major steps towards economic independence. We also network with other organizations to receive the loans. In future we also intend to develop our own funds to meet the needs of the community members for sustainable economic development.

In addition to this women are undertaking petty jobs from the local market to generate income to sustain their families' basic needs. Some of the products made by the community women are sold at HMI when different groups –local and international—visit HMI. The sale gives them an ample amount of income and also builds their confidence to continue these efforts.

Staff Development

Regular staff meetings are organized to develop the capacities of the project staff members. In this term the project staff members have jointly prepared the annual report for the period 2009-2010 and also made plans for the coming year April 2010 to March 2011.

The project staff members continue to network with the local educational, health and technical institutions to seek out different partnering possibilities. Ms. Noorie Begum and Ms. Amreen Begum in their school vacation have joined the beautician course which is offered by SIASAT Trust to learn a new vocational craft. Ms. Saritha, one of the Tailoring teachers in Sultan Shahi centre has completed her second year of graduation and is pursuing further studies. Ms. Rehmat Inissa is doing her advanced Fashion Designing course from SETWIN (one of the vocational training centres recognized by the Government).

Planning

A lot of emphasis was given to envisioning the five year goals of the Community Development team for the period 2010 to 2015. As a result of which the draft plan has been prepared for further discussion with the Director and Board.

Interns / Mentoring

Mentoring students and scholars is one of the most important and continuing aspect of the Community Development Team. During this period two social work students Mr. Borsali and Mr. Pemmi from 'MAR GREGORIOUS COLLEGE OF ARTS & SCIENCE' Chennai had completed their summer placement work at HMI. They visited the projects and interacted with the staff and community women, in doing so they experienced working with grass root level, the strategies and skills for peace building initiatives through the community development programmes.

Jessica Lane a student from SIT Graduate University, USA studying Sustainable Development, as part of her internship worked with the CD team from the end of December until March 2010. She focused most of her time at our Chandrayangutta project site and worked with the staff and participants on subjects like women's empowerment, confidence building, and women's leadership from interfaith perspectives, public speaking and other social development activities. She met with participants twice a week and implemented around 20 activities during her time with us. Her major achievement was planning and organizing the International Women's Day celebration on March 4th with our project staff and participants. The women at the project took up various activities celebrating the lives of women leaders from Christian, Muslim and Hindu backgrounds. They shared stories, read poems and sang songs about important women in their lives and they presented artwork such as paintings, collages, and passages written in calligraphy from the Qur'an which celebrate women. The participants invited their mothers, friends and other community members as honored guests to our function. Working at our Chandrayangutta project site was truly a transformational experience for Jessica as well as for the participants.

Mr. Till from Germany worked with the youth of young men initiative programme at the Sultan Shahi project. Through the interaction which he had with the youth he could learn that this is a common platform where in both the community youth come together and the interactions and discussions help in overcoming many stereotypes and prejudices.

Madeline Race from U.K visited the projects and interacted with the students and women in the community. She could do some activities with women and children, which helped the group to understand and know each other deeply. She gained more clarity on different concepts of Community Development and Peace building initiatives.

Visitors

On 12th January a group from Germany, 11th February Pastoral Group members from Germany, 17th and 18th February two members from Church of Sweden, 11th & 12th May members from Centre for Just peace visited the project.

Visitors to CD Projects

Young Men's Initiative (YMI) Project

Young men are one of the most susceptible groups to communal riots. Hence HMI believes that for sustainable peace building, it's very essential to address their needs and channelize their energies in a positive direction. This project is initiated at Sultan Shahi in the Old City of Hyderabad. Here various activities are being organized based on the interests and needs of the young men.

Job Oriented Technical Training for Youth

Closing ceremony of 'Computer Hardware & Networking' and 'A/C/Refrigeration' courses was organized on 19th March 2010. While fifteen young Hindu and Muslim men passed out the computer course, A/C & Refrigeration course saw twenty four Hindu and Muslim men successfully completing it. These young men were awarded with certificates of the above courses.

The computer course continues to meet the needs of the young men. Right now, twenty Hindu and Muslim young men are attending the course. Mr. Asgharuddin is the instructor for the course. The 6th batch of the 'A/C and Refrigeration' course with eighteen young Hindu and Muslim men is in progress. Mr. Abraar is continuing as the instructor for this job oriented course.

Peace Meetings

The Old City of Hyderabad witnessed communal clashes that were subsequently followed by curfew in the last week of March 2010. We visited the project areas and organized meetings with the community people. The community members shared their experiences and the effect of the curfew. This meeting brought the Hindu and Muslim community people together on a common platform. This gave an opportunity for them to share their views and perspectives on communal riots and their experiences.

As an outcome of the above meetings, HMI organized relief activities at Sultan Shahi, Shanker Nagar and Chandrayangutta project areas and distributed relief packets that had essential commodities like rice, dal, oil, bread, etc.

YMI Certificate Distribution

Interfaith activities

Sankranti was celebrated in January 2010 by bringing forty young Hindu and Muslim men together. The Hindu young men shared about the religious relevance & background of the festival. They also shared about the background of flying 'Kites' on this occasion. This helped the young men to learn about the values, cultures and traditions of different religions and to develop respect trust and understanding towards other religions.

Picnic

As a mark of solidarity with the victims of communal clashes and also to raise funds for relief initiatives, the young men decided to call off their picnic trip and instead use that money for relief activities. Hence we did not organize the picnic and used that money for distributing relief material to the community.

A one day basic level training programme on 'Conflict Transformation & Peace Building Skills' was organized for Forty Hindu and Muslim young men in March 2010. The young men gave an enthusiastic response and actively participated in this basic level workshop.

Partnering for Peace

HMI initiated this project with an objective to promote the concepts of peace building, interfaith relations and conflict transformation among the NGOs that are based in riot prone areas of Andhra Pradesh. As part of this project HMI is supporting three organizations MSS, SPANDANA and PADMAPANI. MSS and SPANDANA are based in the Old City of Hyderabad and PADMAPANI is in Kama Reddy town, a communally sensitive area, in Nizamabad district of Andhra Pradesh.

Kama Reddy Visit

SPANDANA is working in five highly communally sensitive areas in the Old City of Hyderabad namely Yakutpura, Asmangadh, Edi Bazar, Gandhi Nagar and Indira Nagar. They organized community level meetings, capacity building programmes, festival celebrations, Street plays, college programmes, etc, in the community.

As part of skill development, SPANDANA continues to offer 'Dress making training courses' in its project area at Musarambagh. Forty two Hindu and Muslim community women took part in the training and successfully completed the course. These community women were quite impressed with the earlier batch learners who are now able to earn some money by utilizing their tailoring skills. They would earlier sit idle at their homes, but now are very happy that they are able to renew their inner capacities and learn some new skills that would help them to get economic support. Some of the women started getting local orders that is helping them to meet their financial needs to some extent. Both Hindu and Muslim women have been able to interact and mingle with another and also help out in meeting their needs / requirements.

Mahila Sahyog Society (MSS) is working in six neighborhoods of Old City of Hyderabad namely Guddi Bowli, Shanti Nagar, Kurmaguda, Bharat Nagar, Chandra Nagar and Murtuza Nagar. MSS organized programmes related to basic education, health, craft training production, HIV/AIDS, interfaith festival celebration etc.

The Hindu and Muslim women who got trained in craft participated in the 70th All India Industrial Exhibition at Hyderabad, where they were allotted a stall by the Government. Here they displayed and sold their hand made arts / crafts items like purses, cell phone covers with beads work, Zari work, perfumes, different types of soft toys and twenty varieties of seashell items. They were able to generate considerable income from this exhibition and support their families.

PADMAPANI continues to work in the vulnerable localities of Kama Reddy town, a communally sensitive area, in Nizamabad District of Andhra Pradesh. Their activities include health and development programmes.

Padmapani supports two tailoring centres at Devunpally and Sriram Nagar colony areas of Kamareddy town. Seventy six Hindu and Muslim women took part in tailoring and embroidery courses. A special summer course on tailoring and embroidery was organized where many college students took part. All the participants successfully completed the course and a few of them have got jobs in tailoring shops and a few have started their own tailoring units.

A training program on 'Peace building & Conflict transformation' was organized for the partner organizations in February 2010. The partner organizations were given opportunity to share their learnings / experiences and challenges, while working for peace building and conflict transformation in their respective project areas. They shared some of their experiences by enacting / performing dramas, presentations, etc.

HIV/AIDS

HMI believes that 'peace' can be promoted in a holistic way by meeting the basic needs of a community starting from food, education, health etc. Taking 'health' as one of the factors for holistic peace-building, HMI initiated 'Health for Peace HIV & AIDS Project'. This project was started this year from April 2010 and implemented in HMI's community development project areas of Sultan Shahi, Shanker Nagar & Chandrayangutta, in the old city of Hyderabad. Most of the people in the above areas are uneducated and the low awareness levels on HIV & AIDS makes the project furthermore important. Through this project, HMI makes an attempt to integrate HIV & AIDS awareness and peace-building work.

As part of this project two awareness sessions were organized at Sultan Shahi and Chandrayangutta centres respectively. These sessions were attended by both Hindu and Muslim women. These programs also created a space to women for more interaction and develop new friendships. They also could deepen their knowledge on HIV/AIDS.

Conflict Transformation

The CT Team was involved in several important initiatives in the last six months. In January, Varghese Chakkumootil returned back to the CT team after completing his two year studies in Social Justice and Intercultural Relations. The team conducted 15 workshops and trained a total of 425 participants in Assam, Nagaland, Manipur, Orissa, Jharkhand, Andhra Pradesh, and Gujarat. Few of the CT team members spent some valuable time in guiding the PGDCT students in their final papers. The last six months has been a wonderful journey for the team members in planning and designing new initiatives for future programs. We continuously hope to strengthen our team's capacities and contribute to social change processes in different ways possible. We welcome you to read a brief description of our six month happenings.

Tangkhul Catholic Youth Federation Workshop ~Manipur, 17-19 Jan 2010

The CT team jointly organized a workshop with Tangkhul Catholic Youth Federation (TCYF), the apex body of Catholic Youth of Ukhrul District, Manipur. The theme was "The Role of Youth in Peace Building," which focused on gaining clarity on conflict transformation theory and learning skills for working in group settings. SNEH Workshop

~Orissa, 2-6 Feb 2010

The CT team conducted a request workshop for the Society for Nature Education and Health (SNEH). The program in Orissa was jointly organized by Mennonite Central Committee (MCC) and SNEH on the theme of "Interfaith Reconciliation and Peace Building Skills." SNEH is very well respected in Orissa for its more than a decade of experience in health, education and development work but is now starting a peace building institute and so is collaborating with HMI to train trainers and to learn from HMI's experience in establishing a peace building program. Many of the 24 participants are working in the Kandhamal District which recently experienced communal violence between Hindus and Christians. Understandably, sessions on interfaith reconciliation could have the potential to backfire. However, much effort was put into building trust with facilitators and between the participants. By focusing on issues and not positions, a safe space was created so that the participants were able to delve deeply into this delicate subject. The workshop went smoothly which was facilitated by Moon and Dan from HMI.

Culture of Peace Workshops

~Gujarat, Feb 10-16 2010

Three Culture of Peace (COP) workshops were conducted in Ahmadabad and Gujarat bringing together a total of 80 participants. The objective of the COP program is to work with teachers, students and school administrators to offer peace building skills for the purpose of creating a more nurturing learning environment. The workshops in Gujarat gave space for teachers to reflect on their role as teachers and peace builders and to identify their strengths and areas for improvement. They were also able to enhance their skills for dealing with children in a more holistic way. Many of the teachers said that this was one of the best and most unique workshops they have attended and would encourage similar programs which would help them grow personally and professionally. The workshops were facilitated by Jalaja and Majid from HMI and Sadaf from IEHASAS, Gujarat.

The workshop covered basic peace building and conflict transformation skills while also exploring how art and music can be used to promote peace. Giri, a local artist, facilitated a session to help the participants creatively think about peace through painting. Internship

~Jessica Lane

Jessica Lane, our intern from the USA studying Conflict Transformation, has been preparing peace resources, curriculum ideas for the PGDCT course; a national reconciliation case study in post Genocide Rwanda and project proposals submitted by the CT Team. She presented the life of the Indian pacifist and freedom fighter Khan Abdul Ghaffar Khan (also called frontier Gandhi) and highlighted his contributions to the fields of conflict transformation, peaceful non-violent resistance and social justice in a presentation in March. She also carried out an 'experiential learning activity' based on the refugee process, which sensitizes participants to the struggles people face when people are forcibly displaced; the CT Team will be able to adapt the activity for appropriate future workshops and trainings. In addition, she visited the African nation Rwanda in April to have a first hand view of the reconciliation process 16 years after the Genocide. She met with staff from the National Commission for Unity and Reconciliation and the National Commission for the Fight against Genocide and various other institutions and was able to gain an in-depth understanding of the conflict and analyzed some of the achievements and challenges the nation faces in its pursuit for healing in a presentation given in May. With the guidance of CT Team members, she continues to enhance our pool of knowledge and resources for peace.

Borsali Teron and Pemmi Kashung

~May 10- June 10 2010

Borsali Teron and Pemmi Kashung, students of social work from the Mar Gregorious College of Arts and Sciences, did a one month internship with the HMI's Conflict Transformation Team. During the course of the internship, the interns attended HMI's interfaith devotions, visited Community Development Project Center in Sultan Shahi, organized programs for the school children at Aman Shanti Nilayam, trained to write book reviews, etc. Jalaja from the CT team supervised their internship and personally mentored their learning and internship experience at HMI.

Maytal Saltiel

Maytal Saltiel, our intern from USA, started her two month internship with the CT team on the 17th June 2010. Maytal is a student from Harvard Divinity School, Boston. Maytal will be working on several initiatives along with the CT team. In Maytal's own words: "I am very attracted to the inter-religious work currently being done in India, as the fabric of diverse religious traditions creates a climate ripe in opportunity. I would love to be involved in workshops or programs developed around conflict transformation, working both with the staff and the community to address the needs of the community and determine how my skills and experience can be best utilized."

Culture of Peace Program

The CT team has reworked on its culture of peace program and brochure and very recently wrote a three year proposal on this program. The CT team aims to strengthen this program in the following years.

Acting Associate Director's Task Consisted in

Research, Supervision and Guidance

The first research paper is on, "Peace Education in Situations of Intractable Conflicts" based on my field work in Israel-Palestine, and is due to be published in the forthcoming issue of HMI's Journal. The second paper is on, "Cultural Resources for Peace Curricula: Lessons from Tamil saint poets Thiruvalluvar and Avvaiyar" to be published later. Also did the preliminary work for a third paper on, "Development, Conflict and Peace: Listening to the marginalized voices."

Supervised two project papers of PGDCT students Timothy and Kabila from DRC on 'Violence, Women and Peace in DRC' and 'Peace Education in the context of DRC'. Guided Jessica (intern from USA) in exploring under-valued and less-researched materials that can help in shifting perceptions based on partial knowledge, biases and stereotypes through learning about Khan

Abdul Gaffar Khan and the nonviolent mass movement among Pashtun Muslims in the then North West Frontier Province. Also guided Till (a theological student from Germany) to engage with Conflict Transformation literature and the Bible and produce a resource that will help practitioners to use biblical resources for conflict transformation work more effectively.

Art for Peace

Worked with Sribala in designing and producing "The Art for Peace Calendar 2010," a joint initiative of Interfaith Coalition for Peace (ICP) and HMI. This initiative resulted in putting together art work done by Late. G. Chetan Sharma of Manipur done during the period 2001-2008, along with wisdom quotes and epigrams that affirm peace and nonviolence.

Networking

Networking and consultancy work with Mennonite Central Committee partners led to joint work with SNEH in Orissa in February to prepare people for peace in the context of inter-communal tensions; and MCSFI (also in February) in central India to prepare representatives of 9 conferences in India for facilitating the emergence of peace promotion teams in their respective regions. Network meetings with Mr. Ajoy and Mr. Rajagopal of Ekta Parishad (a nonviolent people's movement) resulted in agreement to do joint work for two years with Ekta Parishad to train people in nonviolence and conflict transformation skills.

Fundraising

Worked with the CT team on two project proposals, one submitted to United Nations Democracy Fund (UNDEF) and the other to United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO). 'Strengthening Democracy for Peace' is the focus of the first proposal and 'Youth Platform for Peace and Justice' is the focus of the second proposal.

Envisioning

Engaged in planning and facilitation of envisioning work within and across departments at HMI in drafting goals for the next five years (2010-2014). Two meetings were held within CT and CD teams to incorporate feedback and finalize the second draft during this period.

Management

Under the purview of administration come maintenance, postage, visitors, arrangement for in-house and outside groups for logistics and enquiries, etc.

Administration

In order to improve computer maintenance we have given Annual Maintenance to M/s Sunrise Solutions.

Accounts dept is trying its best to keep the records straight and working hard for the maintenance of inflow and out flow of funds.

Apart from routine maintenance work during this period, there were major power breakdowns causing damage to some of the equipment in the office. We procured voltage stabilisers for some of the sensitive equipments and also managed to appoint an electrical contractor to take up the maintenance contract with us.

The landscape development continues to improve. New vegetable beds near nursery have been put up for the use of Hostel residents and in house and outside groups; and also a few flower beds in the lawns. We are planning to plant more teak and other plants to beautify the campus.

We are planning to provide interlocking pavers blocks for the entire internal roads in HMI premises.

Four two tonne Air Conditioners were fixed in the library in rack area to protect the valuable books from getting spoiled due to heat. Two Air Conditioners were fixed in the Guest House Ground floor and one in Hostel first floor for the use of outside groups.

Aluminium partitions were fixed in the library for books rack area in order to keep the area cool. We purchased slotted angles to meet the need to keep more books in the racks.

Ten fire extinguishers were replaced the old ones in the hostel and the programme building in order to protect from fire mishaps and emergencies.

Submersible pump in open well was rewinded and fixed to meet the water requirement for lawns, plants, nursery, etc. A parking shed was built on the eastern side of premises for the benefit of the visitors etc.

Preventive maintenance was done by painting the railings in the programme building as they were getting rusted.

The mandatory rectification of the electrical line as required by the department was undertaken. We have a plan to dig a borewell and plant some teak plants and build a compound wall at our Kottur property,

There is a lot of work to be done by way of attending to repairs and maintenance of all equipments and also preventive maintenance for the entire campus as well as the city office.
